About Summit Financial Group, Inc.

Founded in 1995, Summit Financial Group, Inc. provides investment advisory and asset management services through our investment adviser representatives located across the country. Our services are designed to help clients achieve their financial needs and goals and are available to both individual and institutional investors.

Summit Financial Group is a wholly owned subsidiary of Summit Brokerage Services, Inc., which is a wholly owned subsidiary of Aretec Group, Inc.

Types of Advisory Services We Offer

Summit Financial Group offers the following types of advisory services:

- Financial planning and consulting
- Portfolio management
- Selection of other investment advisers
- Fiduciary and non-fiduciary services for plan sponsors
- Seminars

Financial Planning and Consulting

We offer different levels of financial planning and consulting services to help you identify, prioritize and work towards your goals and objectives. These planning and consulting services vary in scope and detail, depending on your individual needs and the information gathered from you. Our financial planning and consulting services generally include:

- Gathering information from you to help establish your current financial condition and define your financial goals;
- Development of a plan that includes financial strategies to achieve those goals; and
- Delivery of the advice or plan to you.

Financial plans typically provide general advice regarding some or all of the following topics:

- Retirement planning
- Investment planning
- Major purchase planning
- Education planning
- Distribution planning
- Asset allocation
- Net worth analysis
- Income and survivor income planning
- Other income needs (such as disability, long-term care, estate planning, etc.)

Financial planning services offered by Summit Financial Group do not include recommendations to purchase or sell specific products or services for purposes of implementing a financial plan. Your investment adviser representative may solicit additional advisory services offered by Summit Financial Group, or an affiliate, and/or offer brokerage services in his or her capacity as a registered representative of Summit Brokerage Services to assist you with implementing one or more financial planning recommendations. These advisory and brokerage services are separate and distinct from the financial planning services provided by Summit Financial Group. You have complete freedom in selecting an investment adviser or broker-dealer to assist you with implementing the recommendations made in your financial plan and are under no obligation to act on the advice of Summit Financial Group or your investment adviser representative.

Recommendations developed by your investment adviser representative are based upon his or her professional judgment. Summit Financial Group cannot guarantee the results of any recommendations made.

Financial planning services are considered complete upon delivery of services to you. You may engage your investment adviser representative for additional planning services, such as updating your financial plan, by signing a new advisory agreement.

Summit Financial Group's consulting services offer you the ability to receive a broad range of financial advice and services from your investment adviser representative, including the ability to provide specific security recommendations. Our consulting services allow your investment adviser representative to provide continuous advice to you for the duration of your advisory agreement. You may continue to engage your investment adviser representative for consulting services after your advisory agreement terminates by signing a new advisory agreement.

Portfolio Management

Our discretionary and non-discretionary investment management programs provide the ability to develop a customized investment plan with your investment adviser representative based on your individual needs and goals. Your investment adviser representative will provide advice throughout the investment process to help you navigate through market changes. Your investment adviser representative will advise you based on the information you provide during the account opening process and on his or her judgment of what may be in your best interest. Your investment adviser representative may consider research from various sources, including our affiliate, Cetera Investment Management, when providing individual investment recommendations.

In our non-discretionary programs, although your investment adviser representative recommends the purchase or sale of securities, you maintain full authority to direct the individual investments made in your account and may place unsolicited orders at your discretion. An unsolicited order involves purchasing or selling a security without receiving advice or guidance from your investment adviser representative. Effecting unsolicited orders may limit your investment adviser representative's ability to provide recommendations to help you stay on track with your investment strategy. There may be risks associated with securities you acquire on an unsolicited basis, which are your responsibility solely.

Summit Financial Group also offers access to a number of programs managed by third-party asset managers on a discretionary basis. Please refer to the third-party manager's Form ADV Brochure for additional information on these programs.

Summit Financial Group is co-adviser in the My Advice Architect™ Program and is responsible for supervising the activities of the investment adviser representatives who use the program for clients. Please refer to the Form ADV Brochure of our affiliate, Cetera Advisory Services, for additional information on the My Advice Architect Program and the role of Summit Financial Group and your investment adviser representative.

Selection of Other Investment Advisers

Summit Financial Group offers access to a number of programs managed by third-party asset managers on a discretionary basis. These programs offer access to a variety of model portfolios with varying levels of risk from which you may choose.

Your investment adviser representative is responsible for assisting you with completing the investor profile questionnaire or other equivalent document. Your responses on the investor profile questionnaire will assist your investment adviser representative with understanding your investment objectives, financial situation, risk tolerance, time horizon and other financial information. Based on the answers you provide on the investor profile questionnaire, your investment adviser representative will assist you in selecting one or more programs and determining which model portfolio or strategy is most appropriate for you. The third-party manager is responsible for the ongoing management of your account in accordance with the objectives of the selected model portfolio and/or investment strategy.

Each third-party manager offers different types of asset management programs and each arrangement with our firm is uniquely structured. It is important that you review a manager's Form ADV Part 2A Brochure prior to or at the time of account opening.

Fiduciary and Non-Fiduciary Services for Plan Sponsors and Participants

Retirement plans subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA) may retain an investment adviser representative of our firm to provide advisory and consulting services to your retirement plan. In providing these services, Summit Financial Group may act as a fiduciary, as defined under Section 3(21)(A)(ii) of ERISA, and will adhere to the provisions outlined by ERISA to provide the highest standard of care to qualified retirement plans.

- Plan Advice and Consulting Program

Fiduciary advisory services available under the Plan Advice and Consulting Program include:

- Investment policies and objectives: Reviewing and assisting in establishing investment policies and objectives on behalf of the plan and its related trust, which may reasonably include restrictions on the plan's investments.
- Preparation of Investment Policy Statement (IPS): In consultation with the plan sponsor concerning the investment policies and objectives for the plan, an investment adviser representative may assist the plan sponsor in developing an IPS that is consistent with the requirements of ERISA. Summit Financial Group cannot guarantee that the plan's investments will achieve the objectives in the IPS.
- Investment recommendations: An investment adviser representative may recommend, for selection by the plan sponsor, core investments to be offered to plan participants consistent with the plan's IPS or other relevant guidelines and ERISA. The IAR may also recommend investment replacements if existing investments are no longer suitable.
- Investment manager recommendations: An investment adviser representative may recommend "investment managers" within the meaning of ERISA Section 3(38) on behalf of the plan, or designated investment managers to be offered as investment options for plan participants, as applicable. The investment adviser representative may also recommend replacement managers if existing managers are no longer suitable.
- Investment monitoring: An investment adviser representative may meet with the plan sponsor on a quarterly basis, or at such other times as the investment adviser representative and plan sponsor may mutually agree, to review the performance of the plan's investments or investment managers, as applicable, in accordance with the plan's IPS or other relevant guidelines and ERISA.

- Selection of a Qualified Default Investment Alternative: An investment adviser representative may recommend to the plan sponsor an investment fund product or model portfolio meeting the definition of a "Qualified Default Investment Alternative" (QDIA) in DOL Regulation §2550.404c-5(e)(3). If applicable, the guidelines for the QDIA shall be reflected in the IPS.

Non-fiduciary consulting services available under the Plan Advice and Consulting Program include:

- Charter for a fiduciary committee: In consultation with the plan sponsor, an investment adviser representative may assist in developing a charter for the plan sponsor's fiduciary investment committee for the plan and assist in the structure and composition of the committee.
- Education services to a fiduciary committee: An investment adviser representative may provide education for selected employees of the plan who are serving on the plan's fiduciary investment committee. Such education may include guidance concerning their fiduciary roles on the committee, including their investment-related duties under the plan, at times mutually agreeable to the parties.
- Performance reports: An investment adviser representative may prepare periodic performance reports for the plan's investments, comparing the performance thereof to benchmarks set forth in the IPS or other such benchmarks as specified in writing by the plan sponsor. The information used to generate the reports will be derived from statements provided by or through the plan sponsor. Investment adviser representatives do not make any investment recommendations, rate of investments or make buy, sell or hold recommendations as part of performance reporting.
- Fee monitoring: An investment adviser representative may assist the plan sponsor with respect to its duties to evaluate the reasonableness of the fees and expenses of the plan's investments or investment managers, as applicable, in accordance with the plan's IPS or other relevant guidelines and ERISA. Upon request, an investment adviser representative may also assist the plan sponsor with respect to its evaluation of the plan's fees and expenses for administrative services.
- Participant education services: An investment adviser representative of the firm may offer investment education to plan participants at scheduled meetings on an annual basis, or such other times as the investment adviser representatives and plan sponsor may mutually agree, in accordance with the Department of Labor's exclusions for investment education from its definition of a recommendation as set forth in 29 CFR Section 2510.3-21(b)(1) and (2). An investment adviser representative may provide non-fiduciary education concerning the availability of withdrawals and rollovers from the plan, but will not discuss the advisability of withdrawals or rollovers at such meetings.
- Service provider recommendations: In the event the plan sponsor chooses to select a new recordkeeper or other administrative service provider to the plan, an investment adviser representative may recommend plan service providers for the plan sponsor's consideration. Such recommendations shall not include investment or allocation recommendations by the investment adviser representative. Upon request, an investment adviser representative will assist the plan sponsor in the preparation and evaluation of requests for proposals, finalist interviews and conversion support.

In performing consulting services, your investment adviser representative and Summit Financial Group are acting solely as an agent and at the plan's direction.

Services not offered as part of the Plan Advice and Consulting Program include:

- Custody and trade execution – Taking custody or possession of any plan assets, ensuring that contributions by the plan or from participants are deposited timely with the trustee or custodian for the plan, or executing orders for trades or securities transactions with respect to the plan’s assets.
- Employer stock funds and brokerage windows – Providing advice regarding the prudence of plan investments in any employer stock, or providing guidance to participants concerning investments through any brokerage account window under the plan.
- Proxies – Rendering advice on, or taking action with respect to, the voting of proxies solicited on behalf of securities held in trust by the plan, or the exercise of similar shareholder rights regarding such securities.
- Discretionary plan administration – Interpreting the plan, determining eligibility under the plan, distributing plan assets to pay benefits or expenses, determining benefit claim, or making any other discretionary decisions with respect to the administration of the plan.
- Legal or tax advice – Reviewing or amending plan documents for compliance with changes in tax qualification requirements or providing legal or tax advice on matters relating to the plan, including advising on whether plan investments will result in unrelated business taxable income.
- Participant advice – Furnishing any fiduciary “investment advice” within the meaning of ERISA to participants relating to any participant-directed investments under the plan. Any personal investment-related services provided by Summit Financial Group to individuals, including but not limited to individuals who are plan participants, will be unrelated to the services.
- Regulatory Notices and Reports – Distributing summary plan descriptions, elections, and any other notices required by law to participants, or filing any governmental reports for the plan or client.

Plan participants may retain an investment adviser representative of our firm to provide advisory services for their retirement plan account. When providing these services, an investment adviser representative acts as a 3(21) ERISA fiduciary. By making this acknowledgement, the investment adviser representative is required to act under the standard of care in ERISA that is generally a higher standard than imposed on the representative under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940.

- ERISA Participant Advice Program

The ERISA Participant Advice Program allows qualified investment adviser representatives to provide fee-based advisory services to ERISA accounts (e.g., an employer-sponsored 401(k) plan) that are held away from Summit Brokerage Services, our affiliated broker-dealer.

Advisory services available under the ERISA Participant Advice Program include:

- Non-discretionary investment advice
- Asset allocation models
- Strategic investment allocations
- Investment performance reporting

The decision to implement any recommendation rests exclusively with you, the plan participant, and there is no obligation to implement any such recommendations through the Firm or your investment adviser representative.

Services not offered as part of the ERISA Participant Advice Program include:

- Providing investment advice with respect to those assets in your plan that are invested in a particular investment option or security as a result of an investment restriction imposed by the plan, the company sponsoring the plan, or you.
- Providing advice with respect to those assets in your plan held in any self-directed brokerage account or window available under your plan, unless you expressly engaged the Firm to provide advice with respect to such brokerage account, as indicated in your advisory agreement.
- Providing advice regarding the prudence of company stock in your account.
- Exercising any discretionary authority or control over the management or disposition of any investments in your account.
- Providing legal or tax advice or any advice on the voting of proxies solicited on behalf of any securities in your account.

Seminars

From time to time, our investment adviser representatives may present educational financial or investment-related seminars to clients and/or prospective clients. Seminar materials and any handouts provided during a seminar may be prepared by the investment adviser representative or an unaffiliated publisher or distributor of investment seminar materials. The seminars and materials presented at the seminars are intended to be purely educational in nature. Neither the information discussed at seminars nor the information contained in the seminar materials or any handouts that may be distributed are intended as specific investment advice. Summit Financial Group does not purport that any information provided to you during the course of a seminar will be appropriate for your situation or will help you to meet your financial goals or objectives.

Your attendance at a seminar does not require you to complete an advisory agreement. If you attend a seminar, you are our client for purposes of the seminar only. You cease to be our client following the conclusion of the seminar unless you subsequently engage us to provide additional advisory services through the execution of an advisory agreement.

How We Tailor Our Advisory Services to Your Individual Needs

Your investment adviser representative will work with you to build a financial plan that is tailored to your individual needs. The process starts with an assessment of your financial situation, investment objectives and risk tolerance. After discussing your investment needs and goals, your adviser will help you determine whether fee-based or commission-based services, or a combination of both, is appropriate for your financial needs and goals. It is important to understand the differences between fee-based and commission-based services.

In a fee-based or advisory relationship, you generally pay a fee that is a percentage of the account's value, or a fixed fee per service, for personalized advice and guidance instead of a commission for each trade. Fee-based services may include portfolio construction, investment recommendations, ongoing advice and/or financial planning tailored to your unique goals and timelines. Fee-based services align the performance of your account with your investment adviser representative's compensation.

In a commission-based or brokerage relationship, you pay a commission, and in some cases a trailing commission, for each transaction. The amount of that commission varies depending on the security or investment product. The charges for each product are described in the prospectus or other offering documents. Commission-based services require your consent for each transaction.

The way you work together with your investment adviser representative may change over time as your financial needs and goals change. It is important to notify your adviser of any changes to your financial situation, investment objectives or risk tolerance so he or she can advise you appropriately.

Portfolio Management Services for Wrap Fee Programs

Summit Financial Group offers portfolio management services through bundled and unbundled programs. Our wrap fee programs are managed similarly to our unbundled programs, but differ in fee structure. A bundled or “wrap fee” program is an advisory fee program under which you pay one bundled fee to compensate Summit Financial Group and your investment adviser representative for portfolio management and trade execution. An unbundled program is an advisory program under which you pay transaction costs in addition to an investment advisory fee. In instances where Summit Financial Group sponsors a wrap fee program that is managed by a third-party asset manager, Summit Financial Group and your investment adviser representative, in addition to the third-party manager, receive a portion of the wrap fee for our services. A wrap fee program may not be the lowest cost option if you would like to restrict your investments to open-end mutual funds or other long-term investment products.

Amount of Assets We Manage

As of December 31, 2017, Summit Financial Group managed approximately $888,074,979 on a discretionary basis and $2,461,505,700 on a non-discretionary basis. Discretionary assets under management are those for which we have an ongoing responsibility to select and make securities recommendations that are in line with your financial needs and objectives and then effect those securities transactions without first consulting you. Non-discretionary assets under management are those for which we have an ongoing responsibility to select and make securities recommendations that are in line with your financial needs and objectives and then effect those securities transactions only after consulting with you to inform you of the transaction(s) and obtaining your approval to move forward.

Item 5 – Fees and Compensation

How We Are Compensated for Our Advisory Services

We charge fees for our advisory services and those fees vary among the different types of advisory services we offer. Summit Financial Group and your investment adviser representative may negotiate advisory fees at our sole discretion. Fees for our advisory services may be higher than fees charged by other advisers who sponsor similar programs, or if you paid separately for investment advice and other services. You may be charged different fees than similarly situated clients for the same services. The specific fees and manner in which fees are calculated and charged is described in your investment advisory agreement. You should carefully review the investment advisory agreement prior to signing it.

Financial Planning and Consulting

Fees for financial planning services are set at a flat or hourly rate and are payable as services are rendered or upon completion of services and delivery of the evaluation agreed upon by you and your investment adviser representative.

Fees for consulting services are set at a flat or hourly rate and are payable either quarterly, semi-annually or annually in arrears within 30 days after receiving an invoice for the consulting services.

In the event your financial planning or consulting agreement is terminated and the fee is not calculated on an hourly basis, the fee will be prorated based on the services provided through the date of termination.

Factors your investment adviser representative considers when determining your fee include, but are not limited to:

- The amount of time he or she expects to spend completing the financial planning or consulting services and providing related advice;
- The complexity of your goals, issues and/or needs;
- The extensiveness and complexity of the data needed regarding your personal financial information, such as your income, expenses, assets and liabilities;
- Your net worth or the value of your investment accounts and/or other assets that are the subject of the financial planning or consulting services; and/or
- Special circumstances related to life change, marital status, health or special income needs, or growth or decline of a personal business.

You may engage your investment adviser representative for additional advisory services offered by Summit Financial Group, or an affiliate, and/or brokerage services in his or her capacity as a registered representative of Summit Brokerage Services, to assist you with implementing one or more recommendations. You will incur additional fees and/or charges for purchasing a product or service recommended by your investment adviser representative to implement a financial plan. Such charges and fees are exclusive of and in addition to the fee you pay Summit Financial Group and your investment adviser representative for financial planning or consulting services. You have complete freedom in selecting an investment adviser or broker-dealer to assist you with implementing the recommendations made by your investment adviser representative and are under no obligation to act upon advice provided by your investment adviser representative.

Portfolio Management

Fees for portfolio management services are based on assets under management and are payable quarterly in advance. Maximum fees for our advisory programs are outlined below. Graduated fee schedules vary by program. Accounts opened on the Wells Fargo platform prior to June 9, 2017 may be subject to a different fee rate. You should refer to your advisory agreement for your specific fee rate(s).

Programs on the Wells Fargo Platform
Program	Program Type	Maximum Annual Advisory Fee	Bundled or Unbundled
Allocation Advisors	Separately Managed Account	2.25%	Bundled
Diversified Managed Allocations	Separately Managed Account	2.55%	Bundled
Masters Program	Separately Managed Account	Equity & Balanced Accounts: 2.50% Fixed Income Accounts: 2.30%	Bundled
Private Advisor Network	Separately Managed Account	2.05%	Bundled
Wells Fargo Compass Advisory Program	Separately Managed Account	2.25%	Bundled
CustomChoice	Mutual Fund Advisory Program	$0 - $249,999: 1.75% $250,000 - $999,999: 1.50% Over $1,000,000: 1.15%	Bundled
FundSource®	Mutual Fund Advisory Program	Foundations Model Series: 2% All Other Series: 2%	Bundled
Asset Advisor	Adviser-Directed Program	$0 - $249,999: 3% $250,000 - $999,999: 2.50% Over $1,000,000: 1.75%	Bundled
Private Investment Management	Adviser-Directed Program	$0 - $249,999: 3% $250,000 - $999,999: 2.50% Over $1,000,000: 1.75%	Bundled
Managed Asset Planning	Adviser-Directed Program	3%	Unbundled
Summit Investment Program	Asset Allocation Program	2%	Bundled

In the Managed Asset Planning program, you are responsible for paying the charges for transactions in your account in addition to an advisory fee. For select accounts in the Managed Asset Planning program, your investment adviser representative is responsible for paying the charges for transactions in your account. This presents a conflict of interest in that your investment adviser representative is incentivized to not recommend transactions in your account due to these additional costs. Summit Financial Group mitigates this conflict of interest by requiring that our investment adviser representatives conduct account reviews, at least annually, in an effort to ensure that an advisory account continues to be in the client's best interest. You should refer to the broker-dealer's schedule of clearing charges for specific transaction costs.

Managed Asset Planning	Adviser-Directed Program	3%	Unbundled
Summit Investment Program	Asset Allocation Program	2%	Bundled

In the Advisor Investment Management Plus, Elite Plus and Managed Asset Planning programs, you are responsible for paying the charges for transactions in your account in addition to an advisory fee. In the Elite program and select accounts in the Managed Asset Planning program, your investment adviser representative is responsible for paying the charges for transactions in your account. This presents a conflict of interest in that your investment adviser representative is incentivized to not recommend transactions in your account due to these additional costs. Summit Financial Group mitigates this conflict of interest by requiring that our investment adviser representatives conduct account reviews, at least annually, in an effort to ensure that an advisory account continues to be in the client's best interest. You should refer to the broker-dealer's schedule of clearing charges for specific transaction costs.

In addition to advisory fees and transaction costs, in the Elite and Elite Plus programs you are also responsible for paying an annual administrative fee of $150. Your investment adviser representative may elect to pay this fee in lieu of passing it through to you.

A performance link fee may be charged if you elect to have any of your accounts that are custodied at Pershing included in a single, consolidated performance report. There is a separate and additional fee for the Performance Link service, which is based on the size of your account(s) using the following graduated schedule:

Maximum Annual Performance Link Fee

- First $500,000: 0.03%
- Next $500,000: 0.02%
- Over $1,000,000: 0.01%

A minimum annual fee of $140 and maximum annual fee of $250 applies to the Performance Link service.

Please refer to Cetera Advisory Services' Form ADV Brochure for information regarding fees and compensation related to the My Advice Architect™ Program.

Programs on Other Platforms
Program	Program Type	Custodian	Maximum Annual Advisory Fee	Bundled or Unbundled
Investment Management Program	Adviser-Directed Program	Charles Schwab or TD Ameritrade	3%	Unbundled
Summit Foliofn Portfolios	Adviser-Directed Program	Foliofn	3%	Bundled

Selection of Other Investment Advisers

Fees for third-party managed programs are set by the program sponsor/manager. Summit Financial Group and your investment adviser representative receive a portion of the advisory fee you pay to the third-party manager. When acting as a solicitor for a third-party managed program, you will receive a disclosure statement that describes the nature of relationship with the third-party manager, the terms of our compensation arrangement with the manager, including a description of the compensation Summit Financial Group will receive for referring you to the third-party manager and the amount, if any, that you will be charged in addition to the manager's advisory fee for referring you to the manager.

Fiduciary and Non-Fiduciary Services for Plan Sponsors and Participants

Fees for the Plan Advice and Consulting Program and ERISA Participant Advice Program are either set at a flat rate, hourly rate or based upon the value of plan or participant assets that are the subject of the consulting services and are generally payable in arrears on a quarterly basis. Fees for one-time projects are payable either upon completion of the project or half paid upon execution of the agreement with the balance due upon completion of the project. A graduated fee schedule may be set by your investment adviser representative for fees based on the value of plan assets. Such fee schedule will be described in your services agreement.

Fiduciary/Non-Fiduciary Services for Plans and Participants
Program	Maximum Annual Advisory Fee
Plan Advice and Consulting Program	1.5%
ERISA Participant Advice Program	2.25%

Seminars

If you attend a seminar presented by an investment adviser representative of our firm, there may be a fee associated with your attendance. This fee will be set at a fixed rate and may include the cost of materials distributed at the seminar.

Payment of Fees

Fees for our advisory services are either deducted from your account or billed. The specific manner in which fees may be paid and the frequency of fee deduction/billing varies by service:

- Financial Planning and Consulting: Financial planning fees are payable as services are rendered or upon completion of services and delivery of the evaluation agreed upon by you and your investment adviser representative. Consulting fees are payable either quarterly, semi-annually or annually in arrears within 30 days after receiving an invoice for the consulting services.
- Portfolio Management: Fees for portfolio management services are deducted from cash holdings or by liquidating assets held in your account. Portfolio management fees are payable quarterly in advance.
- Selection of Other Investment Advisers: The specific manner in which fees may be paid and the frequency of fee deduction/billing for third-party managed programs varies. You should refer to the manager's Form ADV Part 2A Brochure for additional information.
- Fiduciary and Non-Fiduciary Services for Plan Sponsors and Participants: Fees for fiduciary and non-fiduciary consulting services for plan sponsors are either billed or debited from participants' accounts. Fiduciary and non-fiduciary consulting fees are generally payable in arrears on a quarterly basis. Fees for one-time projects are payable either upon completion of the project or half paid upon execution of the agreement with the balance due upon completion of the project. Fees for fiduciary services for plan participants are either billed or debited from the participant's checking or brokerage account. Advisory fees are payable in arrears on a quarterly basis.
- Seminars: Fees for seminars are payable in advance of attendance.

Other Types of Fees and Expenses You May Incur

You may incur additional charges imposed by custodians, broker-dealers, investment companies, insurance companies and other third parties, such as account maintenance fees, transaction costs, surrender charges, transfer taxes, wire transfer and electronic fund fees and other fees and taxes on brokerage accounts and securities transactions. Such charges and fees are exclusive of and in addition to Summit Financial Group's fees. You are responsible for payment of any and all taxes that may be due as a result of any transactions in your account.

In addition to advisory fees, you are responsible for paying any management and other fund-related expenses for the mutual funds in which your account assets are invested. This includes redemption fees imposed by the mutual fund or custodian as a result of a transaction-related request you initiate (such as a partial or complete liquidation of your account). Decisions to reallocate your account assets may result in you incurring a redemption fee imposed by one or more mutual funds held in your account. Distribution or "12b-1" fees paid by the mutual funds in which your account assets are invested are credited back to your account for your benefit.

Mutual funds available on Pershing's FundVest platform impose short-term trading fees if assets are redeemed within a specified period of time of purchase. Ticket charges may also be imposed if certain fund minimums are not met.

Advance Payment of Fees

Generally, fees for our advisory services require you to pay investment advisory fees in advance of receiving services. Upon termination of your account, any prepaid, unearned fees will be promptly refunded, and any earned, unpaid fees will be due and payable. Refunds are automatically processed upon termination.

- For financial planning and consulting services, the amount of a refund is calculated based on the value of the services that were completed.
- For portfolio management services, the amount of a refund is calculated by taking the total advisory fee billed for the calendar quarter, dividing that amount by the number of days in the calendar quarter and multiplying that amount by the number of days services were not provided during the calendar quarter.
- For selection of other investment advisers, the third party manager determines the manner in which fees are billed (in advance or arrears). You should refer to the manager's Form ADV Part 2A Brochure for additional information on how fees are paid for their services.
- Fiduciary and Non-Fiduciary Services for Plan Sponsors: Fees for fiduciary and non-fiduciary consulting services for plan sponsors are generally payable in arrears. For one-time projects that are partly paid upon execution of the agreement, the amount of a refund is calculated based on the value of the services that were completed.

Fees for advisory services for ERISA participants are payable in arrears.

- Seminars: Refunds for seminar attendance are determined on a case-by-case basis.

Other Types of Compensation We Receive

Your investment adviser representative also acts as a registered representative of our affiliated broker-dealer, Summit Brokerage Services, Inc. As a registered representative, he or she accepts compensation for the sale of securities in a non-fee-based brokerage account, including asset-based sales charges and service and distribution fees from the sale of mutual funds. The receipt of such compensation presents a conflict of interest and gives your investment adviser representative an incentive to recommend commission-based products in addition to advisory services based on the compensation he or she will receive, rather than on your needs. Summit Financial Group addresses this conflict of interest by requiring that your investment adviser representative uphold their fiduciary duty to provide investment advice that is in your best interest and disclosing the conflict to you before or at the time you enter into an investment advisory contract with our firm. During the account opening process, your investment adviser representative will also provide you with our Big Picture Brochure, which describes the differences between commission-based and fee-based services, to help you determine whether a commission-based or fee-based account is appropriate for your financial needs and goals.

When recommending mutual funds, Summit Financial Group and our investment adviser representatives primarily recommend no-load or load-waived funds for advisory accounts. In instances where a distribution or "12b-1" fee is paid by a mutual fund you hold in your advisory account, such fee is credited back to the account for your benefit.

You have the option to purchase investment products that your investment adviser representative recommends through other brokers or agents that are not affiliated with Summit Financial Group.

Item 6 – Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

Summit Financial Group does not charge performance-based fees or participate in side-by-side management. Performance-based fees are fees that are based on a share of capital gains on or capital appreciation of your assets. Side-by-side management refers to the practice of managing both accounts that are charged a performance-based fee and accounts that are charged another type of fee, such as an hourly or flat fee or an asset-based fee.

Item 7 – Types of Clients

Summit Financial Group offers investment advisory services to individuals, pension, profit sharing and other employer sponsored plans, corporations and other business entities. The requirements for opening an account vary by the type of account you maintain and the program you select. Minimum investments may be waived at our sole discretion. For example, we may consider account values for your minor children, spouse and other types of related accounts in an effort to meet the stated minimum.

The minimum investment required for our programs are as follows:

Item 8 – Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Our Methods of Analysis

Your investment adviser representative may use various methods to determine an appropriate investment strategy for your portfolio. Meetings with your investment adviser representative will include discussions regarding the methods of analysis that will be employed for your account. These methods may include, but are not limited to, technical analysis, fundamental analysis or a combination of methods.

- Technical analysis utilizes statistics to determine trends in security prices and tends to focus on trading volume, demand and security price fluctuations. Technical analysis is also commonly referred to as chart analysis.
- Fundamental analysis concentrates on earnings, a company's financial statements and the quality of a company's management to determine the financial strength of a company.

Investing in securities involves risk of loss that you should be prepared to bear.

Our Investment Strategies

Your investment adviser representative may employ various investment strategies to guide with investment decisions based on your individual goals, risk tolerance and time horizon. These strategies may include, but are not limited to, asset allocation, diversification, dollar cost averaging or other strategies deemed appropriate for your individual situation.

- Asset Allocation is a strategy that involves dividing an investment portfolio among different asset classes, such as stocks, bonds and cash. Various asset allocation methods may be used by your investment adviser representative to help you achieve your investment goals, including, without limitation, strategic asset allocation and tactical asset allocation.
 - Strategic asset allocation is a strategy that involves setting target allocations for various assets classes based on expected rates of return for each asset class and periodically rebalancing a portfolio back to the target allocations.
 - Tactical Asset Allocation is a strategy that involves actively shifting the percentage of assets held in various asset classes to take advantage of market opportunities and returning to a portfolio's original asset mix when desired profits are achieved.
- Diversification is a risk management technique that involves using a variety of dissimilar investments in a portfolio so that investments that yield a higher return offset investments with a negative return.

- Dollar-Cost Averaging is a strategy that involves buying a fixed dollar amount of securities at regularly scheduled intervals, regardless of the price per share. Dollar cost averaging aims at reducing the risk of incurring substantial losses resulting from investing a lump sum in securities just before a market downturn.

There is no guarantee that asset allocation, diversification or dollar-cost averaging will ensure a profit or protect against loss. As more investments are added to a portfolio, fees and expenses may increase, which will, in turn, lower investment returns.

Risk of Loss

There is no guarantee that investment recommendations made by your investment adviser representative will be accurate. Summit Financial Group cannot assure that your portfolio will increase, preserve capital or generate income, nor can we assure that your investment objectives will be realized.

Your investment adviser representative may recommend a variety of security types for your account in an effort to achieve your individual needs and goals. Described below are the material risks associated with investing in some of the types of securities available through our advisory programs:

Cash and Cash Equivalents

A portion of your assets may be invested in cash or cash equivalents to achieve your investment objective, provide ongoing distributions and/or take a defensive position. Cash holdings may result in a loss of market exposure.

Fixed-Income Securities

The return and principal value of bonds fluctuate with changes in market conditions. Fixed income securities have interest rate risk and credit risk. As interest rates rise, existing bond prices fall and can cause the value of an investment to decline. Changes in interest rates generally have a greater effect on bonds with longer maturities than on those with shorter maturities. If bonds are not held to maturity, they may be worth more or less than their original value. Credit risk refers to the possibility that the issuer of a bond will not be able to make principal and/or interest payments. High yield bonds, also known as “junk bonds,” carry higher risk of loss of principal and income than higher rated investment grade bonds.

Equity Securities

In general, prices of equity securities are more volatile than those of fixed income securities. The prices of equity securities will rise and fall in response to a number of different factors, including events that affect particular issuers as well as events that affect entire financial markets or industries. Small- and mid-capitalization stocks may have greater price volatility, lower trading volume and less liquidity than large-capitalization stocks.

Mutual Funds

Mutual funds may invest in different types of securities, such as value or growth stocks, real estate investment trusts, corporate bonds or U.S. government bonds. There are risks associated with each asset class.

An investment in a money market fund is not insured or guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any other governmental agency. Although money market funds seek to preserve the value of your investment at $1.00 per share, it is possible to lose money by investing in the fund. Redemption is at the current net asset value, which may be more or less than the original cost. Aggressive growth funds are most suitable for investors willing to accept price per share volatility since many companies that demonstrate high growth potential can also be high risk. Income from tax-free mutual funds may be subject to local, state and/or the alternative minimum tax.

Because each mutual fund owns different types of investments, performance will be affected by a variety of factors. The value of your investment in a mutual fund will vary from day to day as the values of the underlying investments in a fund vary. Such variations generally reflect changes in interest rates, market conditions and other company and economic news. There risks may become magnified depending on how much a fund invests or uses certain strategies.

You will find additional information regarding these risks in the prospectus for each individual mutual fund held in your account. You can request a copy of a prospectus from your investment adviser representative or by contacting the investment company directly.

Exchange-Traded Funds (ETFs)

ETFs are typically investment companies that are legally classified as open-end mutual funds or unit investment trusts. ETFs differ from traditional mutual funds, in particular, in that ETF shares are listed on a securities exchange. Shares can be bought and sold throughout the trading day like shares of other publicly traded companies. ETF shares may trade at a discount or premium to their net asset value. This difference between the bid price and ask price is often referred to as the “spread.” The spread varies over time based on the ETF’s trading volume and market liquidity, and is generally lower if the ETF has a lot of trading volume and market liquidity and higher if the ETF has little trading volume and market liquidity. Liquidity risks are higher for ETFs with a large spread. ETFs may be closed and liquidated at the discretion of the issuing company. Although many ETFs are registered as an investment company under the Investment Company Act of 1940 like traditional mutual funds, some ETFs, in particular those that invest in commodities, are not registered as an investment company.

Options

Certain types of option trading may be permitted in your account in order to generate income or hedge a security held in the account. There are additional risks with using options. The risks of covered call writing include the potential for the market to rise sharply, which may cause the security to be called away and no longer be held in the account. The risk of buying long puts is limited to the loss of the premium paid for the purchase of the put if the option is not exercised or otherwise sold.

Alternative Investments

Alternative investments are illiquid investments and do not trade on a national securities exchange. Alternative investments typically include investments in direct participation program securities (partnerships, limited liability companies, business development companies or real estate investment trusts), commodity pools, private equity, private debt or hedge funds. Alternative investments are subject to various risks, such as illiquidity and property devaluation based on adverse economic and real estate market conditions.

Alternative investments are not suitable for all investors. Investors considering an investment strategy utilizing alternative investments should understand that alternative investments are generally considered speculative in nature and may involve a high degree of risk, particularly if concentrating investments in one or few alternative investments. These risks are potentially greater and substantially different than those associated with traditional equity or fixed income investments.

You will find additional information regarding these risks in the product's prospectus. You can request a copy of a prospectus from your investment adviser representative. You should read the prospectus carefully before investing in an alternative investment.

International Investing

There are additional risks associated with international investing, such as currency fluctuations, political and economic stability and differences in accounting standards. These risks may be magnified in emerging markets.

Item 9 – Disciplinary Information

In July 2011, the Pennsylvania Securities Commission accepted an offer of settlement in which Summit Financial Group proposed a settlement of an alleged violation of the Pennsylvania Securities Act of 1972. Without admitting or denying the allegations, Summit Financial Group agreed to pay an administrative penalty of $21,500 for failing to register one investment adviser representative in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and comply with the Pennsylvania Securities Act of 1972.

Item 10 – Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Broker-Dealer Activities and Affiliations

Summit Financial Group is a wholly owned subsidiary of Summit Brokerage Services, Inc., a FINRA member broker-dealer. Some of Summit Financial Group's management team are registered representatives of Summit Brokerage Services and/or another affiliated Cetera Financial Group broker-dealer.

Other Material Relationships

Summit Financial Group is part of Cetera Financial Group, Inc., a network of financial services firms that includes other registered investment advisers and broker-dealers. Our affiliates include:

- Summit Brokerage Services, a broker-dealer

- First Allied Securities, Inc., a broker-dealer and registered investment adviser
- FASI Insurance Services, Inc., an insurance agency
- First Allied Retirement Services, Inc., a pension consultant
- FASI of TX, an insurance agency

Other Investment Advisers

Your Investment Adviser Representative may recommend other investment advisers to you and receives compensation for doing so. This creates an incentive for your investment adviser representative to recommend an investment adviser that provides them with the most compensation. It is important to consider the fees, level of service and investment strategies, among other factors, when selecting an investment adviser. Your investment adviser representative has a fiduciary duty to recommend an investment adviser that he/she believes is best suited to meet your investment needs and goals.

Item 11 – Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

Our Code of Ethics

Summit Financial Group is committed to providing investment advice with the utmost professionalism and integrity.

To help us avoid conflicts of interest, we have developed a Code of Ethics designed to protect our professional reputation and comply with federal and other applicable securities laws. The Code of Ethics sets forth guidelines and restrictions for personal securities trading, including an absolute prohibition of trading on the basis of “inside” (material, non-public) information. Adherence to the Code of Ethics is a condition of employment or affiliation with our firm.

Summit Financial Group will provide a copy of our Code of Ethics to you upon request. You may request a copy of our Code of Ethics by contacting our Compliance Department at (800) 226-2660.

Participation or Interest in Client Transactions

Your investment adviser representative may purchase or sell the same security he or she recommends to you. This creates a conflict of interest in that your investment adviser representative may receive a better price than you. Our Code of Ethics places restrictions on your investment adviser representative’s personal trading activities. These restrictions include, but are not limited to, a prohibition on trading based on non-public information, pre-clearance requirements for certain transactions and a requirement that any personal securities transactions not disadvantage clients or otherwise raise fiduciary or antifraud issues.

Item 12 – Brokerage Practices

Selection and Recommendation of Broker-Dealers

Summit Financial Group generally requires that our affiliated broker-dealer, Summit Brokerage Services, be utilized as introducing broker-dealer. We have negotiated competitive pricing and services with various clearing firms for the execution of client transactions. Factors considered when determining the reasonableness of a clearing firm’s compensation for execution services includes, but is not limited to, price and the quality of services offered by the firm. The clearing firms used to provide execution services offer our clients substantial financial strength and stability, economies of scale and reliable execution services.

Select investment management programs offered by our firm utilize a non-affiliated broker-dealer. You should refer to Item 5 for a list of our advisory programs and the clearing firm utilized for each program.

Research and Other Soft Dollar Benefits

Summit Financial Group does not receive research or other products or services other than execution from a broker-dealer or a third-party in connection with client securities transactions (“soft dollar benefits”).

Brokerage for Client Referrals

Summit Financial Group does not consider, in selecting or recommending broker-dealers, whether we or a related person receives client referrals from a broker-dealer or third party.

Directed Brokerage

Summit Financial Group does not routinely recommend, request or require that our clients direct us to execute transactions through a specified broker-dealer. Generally, you do not have the option to direct securities transactions to other broker-dealers or account custodians. In instances where you request, and we approve, the use of another broker-dealer for execution of securities transactions, we may be unable to achieve most favorable execution for your transactions. Directing brokerage may cost you more money as we may not be able to negotiate commissions or other fees and charges for your account, and may not be able to aggregate your orders to reduce transactions costs.

Aggregation of Orders

In order to achieve most favorable execution for your transactions, we may aggregate the purchase or sale of securities for various client accounts. In instances where your order is aggregated with other clients’ orders, shares of the security will be distributed to clients participating in the block trade in a fair and equitable manner. The distribution of shares purchased is typically proportionate to the size of the account and is not based on account performance or the amount or structure of advisory fees. Subject to our discretion regarding factual and market conditions, when we combine orders, each participating account pays an average price per share for all transactions and pays a proportionate share of all transaction costs. Accounts owned by associated persons of our firm may participate in block trading with your accounts; however, these individuals will not be given preferential treatment of any kind.

Item 13 – Review of Accounts

Periodic Reviews of Accounts and Financial Plans

Accounts at Summit Financial Group are reviewed on a periodic basis. At least annually, your investment adviser representative will contact you to determine whether there have been any changes to your financial situation or investment objectives, and whether you wish to impose any reasonable restrictions on the management of your account or reasonably modify any existing restrictions. During this review, your investment adviser representative will advise you of any account changes he or she feels are necessary to help you stay on track with meeting your financial goals and will consider whether an advisory account continues to be suitable for your needs. Your account will also undergo a review by a supervisor upon account opening in an effort to ensure that a fee-based account is appropriate for you.

Our Supervision Department also conducts periodic reviews of accounts for suspicious trading activity. Any issues raised during supervisory reviews are investigated and remedied, as needed.

Agreements for financial planning services are reviewed by a supervisor in an effort to ensure that the fee that is being charged by your investment adviser representative for financial planning services is reasonable.

Intermittent Reviews of Accounts

We may intermittently review client accounts when conducting routine audits and/or testing of our internal operating controls and processes, or on an as-needed basis.

Regular Reports Provided to Clients

In addition to the account statements you receive from your custodian at least quarterly, Summit Financial Group may also provide you with written quarterly performance reports for your account. Quarterly performance reports provide details on account holdings and performance. Written trade confirmations for the securities transactions made within your account are also provided by your custodian. You may be provided the option to opt out of receiving trade confirmations.

Item 14 – Client Referrals and Other Compensation

Other Compensation Arrangements

Summit Financial Group and our investment adviser representatives also receive compensation from third-party asset managers in the form of training events, educational meetings, industry conferences and entertainment events. This economic benefit creates a conflict of interest in that it gives your investment adviser representative an incentive to recommend a third-party asset manager that provides them with additional compensation. We address this conflict of interest by disclosing to clients the types of compensation that our firm and our investment adviser representatives receive so clients can consider this conflict when evaluating our firm, investment adviser representatives and third-party asset managers. It is important that you consider the fees, level of service and investment strategies, among other factors, when selecting an asset manager.

Client Referrals

Summit Financial Group pays referral fees to other individuals for referring clients to our firm. We require these individuals to comply with applicable laws, rules and regulations related to solicitation activities, including any state rules requiring registration. Individuals with which we have a solicitor arrangement have a financial interest in referring clients to our firm and investment adviser representatives, and receive a percentage of the advisory fee you pay our firm. No additional fees are assessed when clients are referred to our firm. If you are introduced to our firm or one of our investment adviser representatives through a soliciting partner, you will receive a separate written disclosure document that contains important information related to the solicitor arrangement. You should review this document carefully before opening an advisory account with our firm.

Item 15 - Custody

When you establish an advisory relationship with Summit Financial Group for portfolio management services, an account will be opened with a qualified custodian on your behalf. We rely on the custodian to price and value assets, execute and clear transactions, maintain custody of assets in your account and perform other custodial functions, including, without limitation, crediting interest and dividends and providing cost basis information for tax reporting of your assets. You retain the right to withdraw all securities and cash in your account.

The account custodians used by our firm vary by advisory program and include:

- Pershing, LLC, located at One Pershing Plaza, Jersey City, NJ 07399
- Wells Fargo Clearing Services, LLC (also known as First Clearing), located at One North Jefferson Avenue, Mail Code: H0004-050, St. Louis, MO 63103
- TD Ameritrade, Inc., located at 200 South 108th Avenue, Omaha, NE 68154
- Charles Schwab & Co., Inc., located at 211 Main Street, San Francisco, CA 94105
- FOLIOfn Investments, Inc., located at 8180 Greensboro Dr., 8th Floor, McLean, VA 22102

Please refer to Item 5 of this brochure for a list of our advisory programs by custodian.

You will receive monthly and/or quarterly account statements directly from your qualified custodian. Summit Financial Group may also provide you with written quarterly performance reports for your account. We urge you to carefully review your account statements and compare the account balances with the balances reflected on any performance report you may receive from our firm for accuracy. Balances on our reports may vary slightly from the statements you receive from the custodian due to differences in reporting dates or other operational factors. In the event of any discrepancy between our report and your account statements, you should rely on the statement provided by the custodian. You should promptly notify us if you do not receive account statements from your custodian at least quarterly or if you believe the information on your account statements is inaccurate.

Item 16 – Investment Discretion

In certain programs, you may authorize your investment adviser representative to have investment discretion over your account. Investment discretion is the authority to determine the securities or other assets to purchase or sell on behalf of an account. Investment discretion may also include the authority to select or terminate a third-party asset manager. You must provide written authorization to our firm before your investment adviser representative can assume discretionary authority over your account.

Item 17 – Voting Client Securities

Summit Financial Group does not have authority to vote client securities. You are solely responsible for receiving and voting proxies for the securities maintained in your account. You will receive proxy statements or other solicitations directly from your custodian or transfer agent. For third-party asset manager programs, the manager may require that you appoint their firm to vote proxies on your behalf. You should refer to the manager's Form ADV Brochure for additional information on their proxy voting policy. You may contact your investment adviser representative should you have any questions about a particular solicitation.

Item 18 – Financial Information

As a registered investment adviser, Summit Financial Group is required to provide you with certain financial information about our firm.

Our Balance Sheet

There may be times when Summit Financial Group requires prepayment of more than $1,200 in fees, six months or more in advance of delivering a financial plan to a client. Therefore, we are required to disclose our balance sheet for our most recent fiscal year.

On the following page is a balance sheet, as-of December 31, 2017, for Summit Brokerage Services, Inc., who owns Summit Financial Group. Our balance sheet was prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles and audited by an independent public accountant.

Our Financial Condition

We do not have any financial condition that is reasonably likely to impair our ability to meet our contractual commitments to our clients, nor has our firm ever been the subject of a bankruptcy petition.
